

STRATTEC SECURITY CORPORATION Reports Management Change

September 21, 2004

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 21 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- STRATTEC SECURITY CORPORATION (Nasdaq: STRT) announced today the resignation of John G. Cahill, its President & Chief Operating Officer, effective September 24, 2004.

Mr. Cahill joined STRATTEC ten years ago, approximately six months prior to its spin-off from Briggs & Stratton Corporation in February, 1995. He was STRATTEC's first Chief Financial Officer, and played a key role in transitioning the business to a stand-alone public company. Mr. Cahill was elected to his current position in February, 1999.

Harold M. Stratton, STRATTEC's Chairman & Chief Executive Officer commented, "John joined our company as an agent for change when we needed it most. As a new public company, we needed to establish new policies, procedures and methods of conducting our business. We also needed to create the support staff and resources to allow us to operate as a stand-alone entity, no longer reliant on a larger corporate parent. John was instrumental in accomplishing those tasks for us as Executive Vice President & CFO. In his role as President & COO, John has helped bring our organization to a high level of professionalism, capability and efficiency. He has been a very energetic, visible leader in the organization, and he will be missed by all of us. However, the positive legacy of his involvement in the company will remain with us for a long time to come."

Mr. Cahill commented, "It is gratifying to assess the accomplishments of the last ten years, and I am very comfortable leaving STRATTEC knowing we have developed a management team that will continue to drive excellent performance for our customers and value for our shareholders."

Mr. Cahill is also resigning from the company's Board of Directors effective September 24, 2004. Mr. Stratton will assume Mr. Cahill's responsibilities in the day-to-day operations of the business.

STRATTEC SECURITY CORPORATION designs, develops, manufactures and markets mechanical locks, electro-mechanical locks and related access control products for North American and global automotive manufacturers.
